CITY ITEMS.

Dentistry,

At 216 Penn street, Dr. Hill & Gillespie.

Vegetable Juices.

The medical properties of plants depend more on a proper care of the juices than anything else. A man in England, some years ago, made a great reputation in curing rheumatism, by extracting the virtues from the plants, while in a green state, which he used in that disease with a perfect success, while the dried plant would not produce the same effect to the same extent. It is for this very same reason that Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher has such wonderful effect in curing all diseases having their origin in a morbid condition of the blood, or in depraved and cohetic state of the system. The roots and herbs used in the manufacture of THIS BLOOD SEARCHER are all preserved in such a way as to prevent deterioration of their medical properties, hence its wonderful curative power. A restoration to health is sure to follow the use of this sublime remedy. The cures performed by it are numerous, and most of them are here in this city, where the persons cured can be consulted as to their verity. Ask for Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher, and take no other. Sold at No. 140 Wood street; Price one dollar per bottle. Dr. Keyser's Consultation rooms, No. 129 Penn street, from 9 A. M., until 4 P. M.

Muscular Development of Women.

The ladies of Warwick, England, have organized a Boating Club, and propose to vie after to compete with the sterner sex up the picturesque and classic Avon. There is no reason why the English women, who are fond of the chase, and delight in fishing and pedestrian tours, and other out door exercises, should not aspire to skillful use of the oar. We shall not be surprised, therefore, to see them generally taking like ducks to the water, and, in time, challenging the world for a twenty race in regatta contest.

It is a matter of congratulation that the out-door sports which impart robust constitutions and ruddy countenances to the gentler sex of England, are becoming yearly more popular among our American women. The effeminate customs of other years are giving way to healthful exercise for horseman-ship, skating, croquet, &c., and, as a result, we witness a decided improvement in the constitution and physique of females, becoming more and more convinced that their physical delicacy, enervation, effeminacy and hot-house drawing-room contentment, do not impart genuine beauty and attraction to them. They are learning that a pretty face is, in man's estimation, no compensation for a frail constitution and numberless doctor's bills.

We have strong, active men, and we want strong, active women, who are not always complaining of excessive fatigue, and lack of vitality; women who do not keep a running account with physicians, and have to be "patched up" and dosed year in and year out; women who are not afraid to shoulder responsibility, and bear their share of life's burdens; women, in short, who are fated by physical as well as mental training, and development, to become what their Maker intended them to be—helpmates for man.

And to this end it is to be hoped that the spirit of reform will continue to grow and prevail among them. Those who exercise an influence in molding and shaping the customs of society should foster and develop this spirit. The managers of our Female Educational Institutes should imitate the example now being set by the New England Colleges, and provide liberal means for physical training and development. Preachers and teachers have it in their power to exert a wide influence of good to humanity in this respect. Said an eminent Methodist Divine of this city not long since: "If I could have my way, I would have a ten-pin alley attached to every church in the country, where boys and girls might devote a portion of their leisure daily during week days, and thus become the better prepared to receive spiritual training on the Sabbath."

This suggestion will strike most people as being decidedly novel, to say the least. It however reveals an appreciation of the importance of devoting more attention to physical culture and development, which we should be glad to find prevailing generally among educators and leaders of public opinion.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

We FIND the following in a Boston paper: One of the Boston Banks has for a long time occupied a room over its banking house for the storage of its old record books, etc. There was also stored in the same room a valuable library of some two thousand volumes, belonging to a gentleman now in Europe, this being supposed to be a safe place of deposit. Recently the discovery was made that the leaves had been cut out of these old legers and day books, though the covers were found standing in their former positions, and to a casual observer seemed to be all right. The "insides" of the volumes of the gentleman's library have also been removed in the same manner, it is supposed that the removed leaves have found their way into the collections of rag dealers, and thence to the paper mills, emerging therefrom in new form, and looking as pure and white as though sent there legitimately. The perpetrators of this most provoking robbery are unknown.

THE GAZETTE and Dispatch proprietors of this city suffered similarly from the operation of thieves, having nearly all the files of their papers—one dating back to the last century, stolen from their respective repositories, and sold to conscientious paper dealers. The covers were left.

ENGLAND AND THE FRANCO-PRUSSIAN COMPACT.

The London Owl thinks it not unlikely that England may be drawn into the impending contest between France and Prussia. Alluding to the Owl, Lord Cowley has been applied to by the Prussian Cabinet to induce the Dutch Government to withdraw from negotiations with France for the cession of the Duchy, and it is believed that on this occasion the Foreign Secretary may depart from his policy of non-intervention in Continental affairs.

From recent declarations of the French journals, the "Siècle," "Opinion Nationale" has not abandoned its designs on Luxemburg, and Prussia seems determined not to permit the Duchy to be separated from Germany.

The Owl intimates that Lord Lyons will succeed Earl Cowley as Minister to Paris.

In a debate in the North German Parliament, on the 3d, General Moltke resisted a motion to reduce the term of service of soldiers in the regiments. He contended that in the present state of Europe it was not expedient to impair the efficiency of the army by such reduction.

ANOTHER FENIAN RISING EXPECTED.

The Herald's special correspondence from Dublin and Thurles, indicates very plainly that another and more extensive Fenian rising is expected in Ireland, and that the British Commander-in-Chief is forced to keep fully prepared for active exertion at any moment.

ENGAGEMENT WITH FENIANS.

An action which took place between three armed Fenians, McClure and two others, and the police and military of Limerick, in a wood near Mitchelstown, was a most exciting affair. The determined bravery of the Fenians, as well as the rapidity of their fire, elicited the admiration of the soldiers. The three Fenians fought 129 soldiers until one of their number was killed and the remaining two captured.

EXODUS TO AMERICA.

The Herald's Queenstown, Ireland, correspondent says: There is an almost general exodus to the United States. The class of people emigrating is generally of the comfortable farming class.

FROM THE SOUTH.

The Destitution — 100,000 People Thirty Days Without Meat — Cases of Starvation — Appeals to the North — Mass Meeting at Savannah — Ex-Governor Brown Counsels Submission.

COLUMBIA, (S.C.,) April 18.—The Governor estimates that 100,000 people in South Carolina have not tasted meat in thirty days. The destitution is great, and several cases of starvation are reported.

The registration of voters will be commenced as soon as sufficient numbers report themselves who are qualified to act as registers. Few have done so yet.

IMMENSE MEETING OF FREEDMEN IN ALABAMA—RADICAL SPEECHES AND RESOLUTIONS.

MOBILE, April 18.—A large meeting of freedmen was held last evening. Over thirty thousand were present. Radical speeches were made by both blacks and white. Resolutions were adopted affiliating with the radical party and demanding the right to sit on juries, hold offices, and ride in street cars. The meeting adjourned at a late hour. Most of the colored persons present were armed, and a great number of shots were fired into the air after adjournment.

CONSERVATIVE MEETING AT PETERSBURG.

PETERSBURG, April 18.—A Conservative meeting was held to-night, at which resolutions were passed fully affirming equal rights for whites and blacks, and accepting the terms of Congress. The meeting was very large and enthusiastic, and consisted almost entirely of negroes. John Lacon was the only speaker.

New York Legislature—Eight Hour Labor Bill Passed—The Veto Urged—Railroad Fare Bill.

ALBANY, April 18.—The eight hour labor bill passed both Houses. There is a strong pressure of manufacturers and capitalists on the Governor to induce its veto, but he pledged himself in its favor in the last political canvass and will undoubtedly sign it.

The new opposition to increase passenger fare on the Erie Central will be probably adopted by both Houses, and passed over the veto.

The Flood in Missouri.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 18.—The river is higher at this point than it has been since 1844, and is still rising. The track of the Missouri and the Union Pacific Railroads between the North side and Wyandotte, is overflowed to a depth sufficient to extinguish fires in the locomotives. Part of the bottom lands on the north side of the river are submerged, and it is feared the entire bottom will be inundated. The water comes mainly from the Kansas river, which is now reported receding slowly.

Collision at Sea.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The steamship Scioto reports that in latitude 42 deg. 11 min., and longitude 29 deg., on the 13th, at 1:30 A. M., she came in collision with the ship Berkshire, of Boston, Captain Benny, from New Orleans to Havana. Took the Captain, his wife, and seven men off the ship, and brought them to this port, the ship being in a sinking condition.

RICHMOND, April 18.—Both Houses of the Legislature to-day passed a bill consolidating the Norfolk and Petersburg, the South Side and Virginia and Tennessee Railroads, into one road, to be called the Atlantic, Mississippi and Ohio Railroad.

LATE CONDENSED NEWS.

An action of much interest and importance was tried on Wednesday in the New York Supreme Court, before Judge Mason. It involved the validity of a judgment rendered in the Sixth District Court of New Orleans, by a Judge who had taken a judicial oath to support the constitution of the Confederate States, and who rendered the judgment in question in February, 1862, after military law had been proclaimed there, and after Judge Peabody had by authority of the President entered upon the duties of his office. Judge Mason directed a verdict for the plaintiff, subject to the opinion of the general term, thus sustaining the judgment rendered by the New Orleans Court.

He said it was but just for the accused to show before the proper tribunal good and sufficient reasons why he caused the arrest and imprisonment of private citizens. The case goes to the jury, and will consume some days.

RICHMOND, April 18.—The session of the Reconstruction State Convention to-day was very animated. Resolutions were read expressing gratitude to Congress; declaring the new party of Virginia identical with Republican organization; adopting, beside the general principles, propositions [declaring for equal political rights, office holding included, a free and liberal system of common schools, for a more equitable mode of taxation, for a modification of usury laws, so as to encourage capitalists, for internal improvements and emigration; that a government ought not to exist founded on any other basis than human equality, and that no man shall receive the support of the new party who does not mean these issues.

WASHINGTON, April 18, 1867.

INTERVENTION IN MEXICAN AFFAIRS.

Several days ago Senator Johnson offered in Executive Session a resolution proposing intervention in the affairs of Mexico, with a view to arrange the difficulties between the belligerents honorably to both parties. It is understood that the subject was taken up to-day, but no definite action took place, involving the question of discussing the subject with open doors. This was terminated by Mr. Johnson withdrawing the resolution.

GEORGIA AND MISSISSIPPI INJUNCTION CASES IN THE SUPREME COURT.

In the Supreme Court, to-day, Mr. Walker said: If the Court please, for my colleague, Judge Sharkey, and myself, I now ask leave to file the bill in behalf of the State of Mississippi vs. the Secretary of War, the General of the United States Army and General Ord. We have made the bill to conform to the decision of the Court. I believe it is precisely similar to that bill already filed in behalf of Georgia. We now ask for permission to file it.

Chief Justice—It may be filed.

Mr. O'Connor—If your Honors please, in the case of Georgia, having given notice for injunction, we beg it may be placed on call, so that in course, on next motion day, it may be heard, if the convenience of the Court will permit.

Attorney General—May it please your Honors, upon looking into the bill carefully, I have come to the conclusion it is my duty to appear in the case in my official capacity. It is a duty that I would not seek, but is one I cannot avoid, and upon examining that bill I have made up my mind that the proper course for me to take, in the first place, is to move this Court to dismiss the bill for want of jurisdiction. It is alleged that of the State of Mississippi, upon the ground of want of jurisdiction in this Court; and I shall be prepared to-day or to-morrow morning I would make such a motion, have handed them notice of it, and the only ground to be argued is the ground upon which the Court will hear it. In the notice of the motion I have designated Friday next as the day when I will be ready to make up the motion. I understand from the opposite counsel that that day will suit them.

Mr. Walker—Do you make the motion in both cases?

Attorney General—In both cases it is the same motion. The case of the State of Georgia is first, however.

Mr. O'Connor—These motions are of a character that involve essentially the same questions, and can very conveniently, I suppose, be heard together, in any order that the Court may please to take them, and will be agreeable to me and to my associates. The time designated by the Attorney General I have no doubt will be agreeable on our part, and if the suggestion which he has made be agreeable to the Court, I shall be ready to be heard, for that is of any importance, as agreeing to it.

Attorney General—I only purpose, and I think that one will be quite enough to be heard upon the question of jurisdiction on a motion to dismiss the bill. In effect, however, it will bring up the whole case.

Chief Justice—The motion for an injunction could not be heard unless the State by counsel appeared and waived regular notice. A motion to dismiss can be heard at any time. Each motion involves the whole question. The Court will consider the suggestion of counsel and fix the hearing of the motion to dismiss the bill for Friday next, the 26th inst., at 10 o'clock.

Mr. O'Connor—I beg leave to say we agree entirely with the view taken, that either of the motions involves substantially the same matter; but I presume our motion for an injunction may go upon the calendar.

Chief Justice—Certainly.

Mr. O'Connor—We must show the Court we are regular, according to the practice, in moving it.

Chief Justice—The motion can be made, but you are aware in the practice of the Supreme Court of Georgia several days ago, which, in all probability, has by this time been whalved, certainly long before the motion could reach Mexico; that the United States having altogether ignored Maximilian and the Empire from the beginning, could not now, if they had any regard for consistency, acknowledge Maximilian's rule as a government and interfere in his favor with his enemies.

The speech of Senator Morton embraced many other points, and is said to have produced such an effect as to induce Senator Johnson to withdraw his resolution, as defeat seemed certain if pressed to a direct vote.

In the course of the debate it was stated by one of the friends of the resolution that Maximilian was not responsible for the bloody decree by which the black flag was raised in Mexico, and supported his assertion by reading a letter from an European Minister that the decree in question was signed by Maximilian under compulsion of the French. It is said this explanation did not seem quite satisfactory, as the French have disclaimed all responsibility.

The result of the debate was decidedly against any interference on behalf of Maximilian and his followers, and an expression of confidence in the Mexican people to deal with prisoners of war according to the law of nations.

THE CASE OF JOHN H. SURRATT—APPLICATION TO FIX A DAY FOR TRIAL.

In the Criminal Court to-day, Judge Fisher presiding, R. T. Merrick, Esq., moved the Court set a day for the trial of Surratt, and suggested the 5th of May.

The District Attorney said he would not be ready then, and suggested the second day of the June term, viz: June 17th.

Mr. Bradley urged the limited means of the prisoner, and the inconvenience he would be subjected to by a continuance. He asked for the assignment of a day.

The Court asked how four weeks from to-day would do?

Mr. Merrick contended it was the duty of the Government to give a reason for continuance. If the District Attorney could not be ready in fifteen days, he never would be.

The District Attorney stated his proposition, viz: first, that it is the privilege of the prosecuting officer to fix a day for trial, and the Court has the prerogative of discharging the prisoner upon the docket the 17th or 18th of June as a day for trial; second, if I am wrong in this opinion, although it was the opinion of Judge Crawford, upon the statement of a sworn officer of the Government, that he cannot fix a day for the trial, upon that statement, the prisoner's counsel has the privilege of a speedy trial is to be understood in a qualified sense; 3d, I have not been remiss in the preparation of this case, but am not confined to witnesses on the indictment, and am bound to have every witness knowing aught of this case to testify in this case.

The Judge said he did not think he could set a day in the June term, as he should not presume on that term. If he should grant the motion, it would be for a continuance. He should take the subject into consideration.

JAPANESE RECEIVED BY THE PRESIDENT.

The President of the United States to-day received, by special appointment, the Japanese now in this city, twenty in number, in company with Professor Pisley and Edward Bands, the latter formerly of the United States legation at Yeddo. A large number of visitors, including ladies, were present. The Japanese were in full dress. The principal ones made speeches, acknowledging their high sense of the honor conferred upon them by thus being admitted to the presence of the Chief of this great nation, an event long to be remembered, and gratefully appreciated. The President expressed the pleasure he experienced in extending to them a cordial welcome, and trusted their visit, in all respects, might be profitable to them; they might ultimately, in safety, return to their homes.

Execution of a Murderer at Doylestown, Pa.—He Drinks a Pint of Brandy.

The execution of Albert Teufel, for the murder of Captain Wyllie, took place at Doylestown, Pa., yesterday afternoon. He made a confession, in which he rehearsed his previous crimes, but denied having committed the act for which he paid the penalty of the law. Just before the fatal drop fell he asked for a pint of brandy, which he drank at a gulp. He then ascended the platform with a wallow of about a pint of brandy, he was considered well enough to die, and at one o'clock he was launched into eternity. Teufel died in fifteen minutes after the drop fell.

Before the execution, in an interview with a reporter, Teufel said he was engaged in robbing the Mississippi steamer, Mary E. Forsyth, in 1862 or 1863. They dragged the clerk on the steamer and then robbed the office of $15,000. He was connected with the robbery of one of Adams Express Company's safes, but some time since. He was not directly in the robbery, but had a share of the proceeds; that the bonds were destroyed, but some $20,000 in greenbacks were divided; there were four engaged in the robbery; of these on the boat the clerk was murdered, but one got loose. He lived by stealing and speculating, and in order to maintain an appearance of respectability in position, sometimes he purchased and sent five stock from St. Joseph to St. Louis. That two and a half years ago he lost all his property, amounting to $150,000, in endeavoring, in partnership with one John Greene, to run a wagon train of clothes and merchandize from St. Joseph to Pikes Peak. He also acknowledged participating in various minor robberies, but always escaped being detected by traveling alone and trusting no one.

Thursday, shortly after twelve o'clock, an explosion occurred on the towboat "Alex. Chambers," Capt. Reno, in the Monongahela river, at the Birmingham shore, a short distance below dam No. 1. The boat had towed some oil flats from the Allegheny river, had tied up for dinner, and whilst the fireman Patrick McCall, was in the coal vault, in front of the furnaces, and the mate, David Donaldson, and deck hands David stewart and John Rivese, were seated on the forecastle, a flue of the starboard boiler gave way with a loud explosion, forcing out the boiler head. The mate and deck hands were blown overboard, and all three more or less scalded, whilst the fireman, besides receiving severe contusions, was enveloped with the escaping steam, and the flesh of his legs and other parts of his body literally boiled. The occurrence soon attracted a great crowd of people, and the injured men at once received attention.

McCall, the most seriously injured, was conveyed to the office of Burgess Saulsbury, in Birmingham, and Dr. Kerr called to attend him. During the afternoon he was conveyed to Mercy Hospital, in the city. It is very doubtful whether he will recover. He is unmarried, and has relations residing in Allegheny. The mate and deck hands reached the shore by their own assistance, and their injuries, although severe, are not considered dangerous. The mate, Donaldson, was taken on board the boat, which, shortly after the occurrence was towed to the Allegheny, and the deck hands received attention at houses in the vicinity.

As to the cause of the explosion we could learn nothing definite. The boiler was supposed to be defective. The boat had been laid up for some time, and, we understood, was taken out as a sort of experiment, to ascertain how she would operate. The result is not very satisfactory. We did not ascertain whether any defect had previously been suspected or discovered. The boat is owned by Andrew Jackson, and scientific chant, of Duquesne borough, and was chartered by Henry Metzgar, oil merchant.

We learned yesterday evening, from Dr. Dilworth, that McCall, the fireman, is even more seriously injured than we had supposed. Besides being scalded from head to foot, the skin literally peeled off, his left leg is fractured near the ankle. It is thought impossible for him to recover.

Monument Association Meeting.

The Allegheny County Monument Association held a meeting in City Hall yesterday afternoon.

On motion, it was agreed to extend an invitation to Governor Geary to be present and conduct the exercises of the fair; also, that invitations be extended to General John A. Logan and others to be present.

The committee on tickets were instructed to prepare tickets for "the Old Folks Concert," and have them ready for distribution at the next meeting.

On motion, it was agreed to procure a set of Base Ball implements, to be presented to the most popular club in the city, and that the club receiving the highest number of votes during the fair.

On motion, the following committees were appointed:

Colonel T. M. Bayne, Captain W. B. Cook, Ed. Manchester, Mrs. Maggie Hamilton, Amanda Bayne, and Della Duncan, to take charge of booth for relics of the war.

Colonel F. Johns, Mrs. Frew and Mrs. Watt—to visit the various artists of the city to solicit contributions of paintings.

The committees appointed to make collections in the various sub-districts are earnestly requested to meet on Monday next for the purpose of receiving and report progress. Where such committees have failed to act in the matter, it is desired that they will report the fact to the Association, so that others may be designated to act in their stead.

Adjourned to meet on Thursday, April 25th, at City Hall at half-past two o'clock.

The Recent Express Robbery.

No further light, says the Chronicle, has been shed on the recovery of the $10,000 stolen from an Adams Express Messenger on one of the Pennsylvania railroad trains. Nor is it likely there will be, in the way of the prosecution of the offender. From what we have heard concerning the transaction, there was not a remarkable degree of sagacity displayed by "detective" Burgs, of Eikenbrenner & Co.'s somewhat notorious agency, in recovering the money, but there was something remarkable about the size of the fee (said to be $2,500) paid for the service he rendered. The merest tyro of a policeman or "detective" could have performed that similar service, and there is something in the "style" in which such things are done, peculiar alone to the Pinkerton agency, that will be very hard to satisfactorily demonstrate that a certain party took the money, a written promise not to prosecute caused the ultimate to be forthcoming, and that is all there is about the mystery.

Broom, Wholesale and Retail.

We yesterday had the pleasure of looking through a broom manufactory which supplies the greater part of the trade in that specialty in this neighborhood, that of William Mardorf & Co., in the rear of Schomaker & Lang's well known house, Nos. 75 and 77 Second street. By the use of machinery of the most improved character this firm is enabled to compete more than successfully with any other establishment in the country. They use nothing but the best quality of broom corn, and take especial care to have every article turned out their trade mark, sustains the high reputation they have acquired. The stock constantly kept on hand is large, and wholesale assorted and dealers, grocers or families can buy at this establishment to the very best advantage. Orders from abroad, promptly filled. Shipping on hand in large quantities and supplied to dealers at very advantageous rates. We commend them to our patronage as honorable, fair dealing gentlemen.

To Owers of Canaries.

Many a person has seen a pet canary, or rather a bird, in a state of perturbation, plucking at himself continually, his feathers standing all wrong. In vain is food changed, and in vain is a saucer of clean water kept in his cage. The cause of his wretchedness has not been found out. It is simple enough. A pet bird should never be allowed to take down the cage and look up to the roof thereof, there will most likely be seen a mass of dust like red ink. That red dust is nothing more nor less than millions of parasites infesting the bird, and for which water is no remedy. By procuring a lighted candle and holding it under every particle of the top of the cage till all chance of anything living is destroyed, the operation is complete. The pet will soon brighten up after his "house-warming."

FRIDAY, APRIL 19, 1867.

THE OHIO PROPOSITIONS.

As our readers already know, the people of Ohio will vote at the October election on the proposition to strike the word "white" from the clause in the Constitution which prescribes the qualifications of electors, and also upon a proposition to disfranchise deserters. If the propositions shall be approved, thenceforward blacks will exercise the right of suffrage on the same terms as whites, and deserters will be excluded from the polls altogether.

So long as slavery existed in half the territory of the Republic, claiming four millions of victims, it was inevitable that distinctions of caste should be maintained. That condition of things has passed away, never to return again. Nor is this all. In eleven of the Southern States, and in at least half a dozen Northern ones, the blacks are now voters, on the same terms as their white neighbors. More than three-quarters of the colored men who are residents of the United States, possess the ballot. The celerity with which they acquired this right, and the unanimity with which politicians of all party affiliations are engaged in propitiating them, in order to secure their co-operation, or at least to divide their strength, imparts a strong probability to the conjecture that whatever hindrances may yet exist to their enfranchisement in the other States, they have not long to wait. The set of the tide is strongly in their favor. They have nearly a million of ballots in their hands, which is a very considerable proportion of the aggregate political power of the country, and they can summarily and thoroughly punish any party that shall presume to bar the access of the residue of their race to all the rights and immunities of citizenship. The blacks hold in the Republic to-day more votes than the Irish do, and will soon make their power felt as effectually.

The Democratic journals in Ohio are not only taking ground against both the proposed alterations, but are endeavoring to draw half-hearted Republicans to the support of their candidates. This involves the admission that the Democratic party is opposed to democratic principles. If that party at the North is prepared to take that ground, and have it so understood at the South, it will most decidedly stand in the way of that "courting of the blacks," begun by its members in the Southern States. Whatever local advantages they may gain in Ohio will be much more than counterbalanced by losses elsewhere.

But this is neither exclusively nor chiefly a question of expediency; of loss or gain. It is a question of absolute right, and as such ought to be determined. Whatever delays may occur through the cowardice, prejudices, or antipathies of Republicans, the final result is not involved in uncertainty, and cannot be postponed for many years.

We think the Republican members of the Legislature made a mistake in coupling the proposition taking the ballot from deserters with that giving the ballot to blacks. The better plan was to submit the proposition for impartial suffrage by itself, upon its own merits, and leave the people to decide upon it without the pressure of extraneous considerations.

Precisely what the proposition respecting deserters is we are not sure we apprehend. If the term deserters is restricted to such men as were actually mustered into the military service, and then absconded, the disability with which they are thus threatened can well be justified on the score of absolute justice. Duties and rights are reciprocal. They are the exact measure of each other. The duties of citizenship are as long and broad as the privileges thereof. The man who refuses to perform his duties, clearly forfeits his immunities, and has no right to complain if he is stripped of them. The enforcement of disabilities incurred in this way, is purely a matter of expediency. No body doubts the justice or wisdom of debarring a convicted and unpardoned felon of the righ's of voting, serving on juries, holding offices, or exercising in any other manner the peculiar privileges appertaining to citizenship. He has failed in his duties, and so lost his right to privileges. The principle is the same as to deserters. The expediency of rigidly applying it to them depends upon circumstances, concerning which good and sound men differ. It is not our intention to enter on the discussion of this point.

But, if the term deserters is designed to cover not only the class already described, but that other class who were enrolled as liable to military duty, were drafted, and failed to respond as required, the case is greatly changed. It may well be considered whether such men were deserters actually or only constructively. If they were deserters only in the latter sense, it becomes a question of serious moment to inquire how far heavy penalties ought to be visited upon that grade of offences, as this inquiry proceeds it would be discovered that one rule, growing entirely out of the necessities of the case, might be permissible during the actual continuance of the war, which would be insufficiently harsh and prejudicial after the struggle had ceased.

Besides, it by no means follows that every man duly enrolled and drafted, was actually liable to service or had notice that his name was drawn. Dead men were drafted, and men who were in the service, and men who had removed in the proper pursuit of business to other districts. We have no sympathy for skulks, or sneaks, or copperheads; but a provision like that under review must be carefully drawn or rank injustice will result from it in many cases. If it is a rule of common sense, as it is of law, that ninety-nine guilty persons had better go free than that one innocent individual should suffer, then we think the inference well taken that this proposition, unless guarded with almost superhuman forethought, will work injustcie.

It seems to be rendered certain that the Liberals in Mexico have disgraced themselves and their cause, by the deliberate and wholesale slaughter of prisoners of war. This was at first denied, though on what competent authority we failed to see. Now, the official order for the execution is published, and Liberal newspapers across the Rio Grande confess to the atrocity. It is manifest that with the withdrawal of the French the Mexicans will sink a long way towards anarchy and barbarism.

Much to the satisfaction of the Broadway merchants, Governor Fenton has vetoed the act passed by the New York Legislature, authorizing the construction of a passenger railway on that important thoroughfare.

Consciousness of power has seldom, if ever, been displayed in a stronger light than by the Prussian Prime Minister in his recent note demanding of France an explanation of the purpose for which it was arming. The interpretation of that note is, we are ready; you are not; either cease preparations, or we shall strike at once.

The humiliation of a nation has rarely been more complete than that of France in being constrained to give a moderate answer to such a mission. Even one year ago such language from any power in Europe to France would have been generally deemed audacious, and unless promptly retracted would have resulted in a collision of arms. Now France is constrained to be content with an arrangement by which Luxemburg, the province in dispute, shall become neutral territory. Whether Prussia will consent to this may be considered doubtful.

It appears probable that Prussia, Italy and Russia have a neutal understanding. It is not impossible that Austria is included in the arrangement. Each of those four powers contemplate schemes of territorial acquisition, to which France is not likely to consent. Having views in common, they are naturally drawn together, and when the favorable conjuncture shall arise will be likely in concert to carry out their plans. United they are too strong for France or Great Britain to interpose with any hope of success.

The Rev. Henry Ward Beecher has been nominated for a seat in the New York Constitutional Convention. It has not been our fortune to concur in all he has said and done, nor yet to have a very high conception of the adoptedness of men of his calling to the management of practical affairs; and yet we trust he may accept and be elected. He possesses extraordinary capacities both of head and heart; is a genuine friend of civil and social progress; has no political ambitions to look after and promote; and will do what ever he thinks to be just and proper. A half dozen such men would do the Convention no damage.

Modern statistics show that many sorts of events, formerly supposed to be fortuitous or accidental, are under the control of fixed laws, and happen in determinate ratios. Murders and suicides, for instance, are found to happen with astonishing uniformity. It has recently been ascertained that in Paris an advance of ten francs on the price of a bushel of wheat, certainly increases by seven thousand the number of persons convicted of offences in the lower Criminal Courts. The difficulties of procuring bread, increases by so much, the resort to unlawful means for obtaining subsistence.

It is no trifling enterprise to establish and carry on successfully new daily papers. The experiment costs money, and without an immense contingent fund, the new paper, no matter how ably conducted, generally goes under, bankrupting the proprietors. In Washington the Leader, a spicy daily, has ceased to exist after a very brief career, and in Philadelphia the Star, a well conducted sheet, is reported as eking out a precarious existence with suspension imminent. Short of an hundred thousand dollars capital to sink, it is unsafe to embark in the daily newspaper business.

The Southern journals are seriously advocating the planting of corn and other cereals in place of cotton. The great want of food existing in many of the Southern States, it is urged, need never again be experienced, if at least a portion of the plantations are devoted in the future to the raising of grain.

The Young Men's Mercantile Association of Cincinnati recently indulged in an animated discussion upon an amendment, proposed to their constitution, denying the privilege of membership to colored folks. The amendment did not prevail.

Superstition—Two Women Burn Up a Child Because He is a Devil—Horrible Cruelty.

The Raleigh [N. C.] Sentinel contains a letter from a correspondent in Louisburg, in that State, from which we extract the following:

As a sign of the times, I send you an account of a murder committed in this county on the night of the 21st (Sunday) ult. Mary and Becky Jane Collins freed women, mother and daughter, the former about fifty years and the latter thirty years of age, were living in the yard of a widow, though not employed by her. Becky had two small children and a boy four years old named Jerry, the son of her deceased sister, and grandson of Mary. On the night of the murder a boy eight years old, son of Becky, and who is bound to Mr. Joseph Murray, stayed with his mother. He states that in the night his mother and grandmother sent Jerry out of doors; they then tore to pieces an old bedstead which belonged to Jerry's mother and carried it out of doors, with all of Jerry's mother's clothes and bed-clothes, and made them a fire at the corner of the chimney. They then caught Jerry and, after cutting him with an axe, making a frightful wound on his neck, pushed him into the large fire. He screamed and jumped out several times, and they as often pushed him back, until he was dead. They continued burning him until all was consumed except two small plates of the skull, a few remains of bones and some of the intestines. Mr. Joseph Murray was there, on Monday morning, when Becky told him she had killed the devil —that Margaret (Jerry's mother) had come back and stuck her claws in Jerry and made him a devil, and she and her mother had killed him. She evidently was feigning insanity and made a great many simple and foolish remarks. Mary made no such attempt, but confessed that she made the fire and that Becky burnt the child. The widow did not remain at home that night, but she says these women had for the last twelve months treated Jerry very cruelly. Both the women are now in jail awaiting trial.

A correspondent of the Chicago Times, writing from Huntsville, Alabama, April 6th, gives the following sensation item: "A greater than Crosby has arrived, whose shoe's latchet your fellow citizen is not worthy to unloose. The Mississippi Legislature has incorporated the 'Southern Asylum,' and given its managers authority to conduct a land and stock lottery. The land is accepted at a cash valuation, and sold at a price that it would bring on five years' time. The difference between the two valuations constitutes the profits of the corporation. It seems, from publications in the Memphis papers, that the best citizens of that place, and others of Arkansas and Mississippi, are managers of the institution. I heard that the Overton Hotel of Memphis, which cost $400,000, would be a prize. If Chicagoians have not speculated enough in lands, and houses, and lots, they now have a chance to secure some of the best farms and other real estates in the valley of the Mississippi. It is the purpose of this corporation to promote the subdivision of plantations, and, by extensive advertising, to invite foreign immigration into the Southwest. This becomes the more needful in order that the blacks may not outvote the whites. The scheme of the company meets very general approbation. Lands are now cheap here in Alabama, and, if their value were made known in Europe, the tide of immigration would be speedily turned in this direction. The corporation designated will have its agents in Europe.

Horrible Cases of Child Murder in England.

A man and his wife named Blow were sentenced at the Lincoln assizes, in March, to fifteen years' penal servitude, for causing the death of an illegitimate daughter of the woman's, by abuse and starvation. The man used to put the child up the chimney while the fire was burning, and to tie it into its chair with small cords, which cut through the flesh of the thighs down to the bone. The girl was three years old, but so wasted by starvation that she weighed only thirteen and a half pounds. Child torture has been especially rife recently in England. A laborer, named James Thorne, has just been sentenced at Taunton to twenty years' penal servitude for inflicting horrible and probably fatal wounds upon his daughter with a red-hot poker. William Foot, in London, used the same implement to punish his little boy, twelve years of age, because the kettle did not boil. He thrust the hot iron into the child's mouth, and kicked him in the eye, but as the boy survived the torture, the sentence was only eighteen months' imprisonment.

A Strange Death.

Last Thursday a man named Payne, a farmer, who lived four miles northwest of Dunleith, came to his death in a most singular manner. He had been in Dunleith nearly all day, and became quite intoxicated. Towards evening he started for home, and about two miles out came to a creek which was swollen so much that he could not cross it in safety. A short distance from the stream was a vacant house—a school house we believe. It was supposed that Payne tried to get into this house, through a window, with the intention of sleeping in it. At any rate, he broke glass and sash with his arm, and a piece of glass punctured the main artery. He sank on the ground at the side of the house, and bled to death. How long he lived after the accident is not known. There was evidence of struggling and attempts to rise, and the bloody prints of the dying man's hands were low down on the side of the house in scores of places.—Dubuque Times, April 9.

Swallowed a Lizzard.—A correspondent of the Detroit Tribune, says: "Mr. McKay, residing at 306 Franklin street, came into my office a few evenings since, saying that on his return home from his day's work he went to the "penstock" and drank from it, while doing so he felt something pass into his mouth, and before he could dislodge it, it passed down into his throat. He states that it felt soft and seemed about an inch or more long. He is satisfied it was a small lizzard. Says he distinctly felt the impression of its four feet upon his tongue. It now occupies the passage leading to the stomach, passing sometimes quite low down and then up again almost to the mouth. All attempts thus far to dislodge its Lizzardship have failed, and of course Mr. McKay's mental state is not very pleasant."

Great Remedy for Consumption:

"I was reduced so low with consumption that I was unable to leave my bed, and my physicians informed me that they could do nothing more for me, my case being utterly hopeless, that I had not certainly over a month to live. At this stage I was induced to try Rev. E. A. WILSON'S REMEDY, and to-day I am as well as any man in the World. If there are any who doubt this statement, they can call and see me, (as per above address) and I will give them all the particulars of my extraordinary recovery.

A TIMELY WARNING.

It is especially important as this time, when the markets of the United States are flooded with the direst poisons, under the name of imported liquors, and when domestic compounds purporting to be medicinal, but not a whit less pernicious, are heralded to the world as "sovereign remedies," that the public should fully understand the facts. Be it known, then, that while all the diffusive stimulants called liquors are impure, and all the Tonics containing alcohol are manufactured with a fiery article containing amyl or fusel oil, a mortal poison, HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS contain none of these things, but are a combination of pure essence of Rye with the pure juices of the most valuable stomachic, antibilious and aperient herbs and plants, and that as a safe and rapid remedy for Dyspepsia and all its kindred complaints, this preparation stands before the world without a rival or competitor. Its sales to-day are equal to the combined sales of all the other tonics advertised in the United States, and the certificates which authenticate its usefulness are signed by individuals of the highest standing in every professional calling and walk of life. Beware of imitations and impostors.

PINUS ABIES, OR CANADA PINE.

There exudes from the inside bark of the White Pine, which grows abundantly in all the Eastern States and Canada, a honey-like, sweet substance, highly imbued with that terebinthinate principle which has long been valued as a remedy, in various diseases of the human system—especially those of the mucuous tissues. Dr. G. W. Sweet, of Boston, has compounded from this material a medicine called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND; which has met with great favor in those maladies where the turpentines and balsams are supposed to be valuable.

CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

OFFICE OF THE PACIFIC & ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH CO. OF THE UNITED STATES, Pittsburgh, April 17, 1867.

THE PACIFIC AND ATLANTIC Telegraph Company of the United States have contemplated, from the period of its organization, the bringing about such a reduction in the rates of long telegraphic messages as would enable the commercial public to enjoy the facilities of the telegraph for the transmission of letters, thereby causing the telegraph to take, to a large extent, the place of the mail.

This reduction they have developed, and would announce that their wires are now open to the public to all points where night operators are employed, for the transmission of messages after six o'clock p. m., at the following rates: Twenty words or less, same as ten words previous to that hour; more than twenty words and not exceeding sixty, twice the usual rate for ten words; sixty words and not exceeding one hundred and seventy words, three times the usual rate for ten words; and for each additional one hundred words, or any part thereof, the usual toll for ten words. A continuation of the same liberal patronage which has heretofore repaid the Company in its efforts to benefit the public, is asked. GEO. H. THURSTON,

The Heartlessness of the Prince of Wales.

The present Prince of Wales is but following in the footsteps of his illustrious predecessors, and he offers a very striking illustration of the homely but truthful asservation that "blood will tell." The Guelph family have been consistently brutal in the treatment of their own families ever since the first George left his loved Duchy to assume the crown of Britain. That worthy German gentleman began his domestic tyranny by imprisioning his wife Sophia, upon a trumped up charge of infidelity, after completely alienating whatever affection she might have had for him, by his brutality and open unfaithlessness. Once rid of her, he filled her place with the hideous and degraded Duchess of Kendal, with whom he lived, unmarried, for years.

George the Second, hated by his father, possessed the same brutal instincts, and although he dared not treat Caroline, who was his intellectual superior, as his father had done his wife, he was guilty of the grossest infidelity, and of cold-blooded brutality, even while his wife lay gasping for breath upon her death-bed. George the Third, the best of the four, was the bitter enemy of his own son, as his predecessors had been of theirs. George the Fourth was married to Mrs. Fitzherbert, before he became nominally the husband of Caroline of Brunswick. In addition to the other crimes which blackened the character of this infamous "gentleman," he committed that of bigamy, and then, following the example of the first George, he accused Caroline of infidelity, separated from her, persecuted her in the most heartless and relentless manner, and then crowned his villainy by charging her with adultery in the House of Lords. She was tried and acquitted, after three weeks of agonizing suspense, but she was so overcome by shame and chagrin that she died within a year.

Such were the predecessors of the young man who is now amusing himself in London while his wife is dying. And while every honest man must despise him as a heartless wretch, something must be pardoned to his hereditary taint of brutality and insanity. It is very certain, however, that his conduct upon the present occasion will serve to render him more unpopular with the English people than he has been, and in the advanced state of liberal sentiment, he may find his throne uncomfortable and insecure when he succeeds to it.

Conundrums.

A late number of the Galaxy contains an exhaustive article on the subject of conundrums. It might be called a digest of the art. The following will show it to be a very simple art:

We will use the dictionary once more. Turn to a and discover which words there are which will furnish a pun by omitting the a: for instance, schools take off a and you have cool. Now proceed thus: Why is a man who does not lose his temper like a schoolmaster? Because he (k)eeps school). When does a man entertain his lover and guest alike? When they both feed at his table (in stable). Why is a man who goes up town after beer like the goods in an auctioneer's store? Because he is up for 'a ale (up for sale). Why is spermaceti like a busybody? Because it makes seadals. There are others made on the same principle, but for which the dictionary affords but little help, as when we say that an old dog is like an inclined plane, because he's a slow pup (slope up); or that lions cannot see immortality, because they get their necks twirled (mortality) in this. One of the worst of this kind was Dr. Holmes': Why is an onion like a piano? Because it smell odious. A pun can also be made sometimes, by drawing or lengthening out the pronunciation of a word, as when we say that the kind of monkeys that grow on grape-vines are gra-apes.

A style of conundrum has become very frequent and popular which is founded on a transposition of letters or words, giving a new and surprising sense. I have opened one package of this class. The first one is as follows: What is the difference between stabbing a man and killing a swine? One is assault with intent to kill, the other is killing with intent to sail. So it is discovered of a cat and a document that one has claws at the end of its paws and the other has pauses at the end of its clause; of a wife and an editor, that one sets articles to right and the other writes articles to set; of the eagle and a certain kind of dog, that one is a tarrier in the sky and the other is a Sky terrier; of the permission to speak and the command not to speak, that in one case you are allowed to talk and in the other you are not to talk aloud; of a pound of meat and a drummer boy, that one weighs a pound and the other pounds away; of an utterer of spurious coin and a false heir, that one issues a counterfeit and the other counterfeits an issue; of a church organist and the influenza, that one knows the stops and the other stops the nose; of a successful lover and his rival, that one kisses his miss and the other misses his kiss; of an unsuccessful swain and a father of a family, that one is a sighing lover and the other a loving sire; on a mischievous monarch and a beautiful young lady, that one harms the cheese and she charms the he's; of seventeen and seventy, that one is careless and happy and the other hairless and sappy; of the effect of catching cold and one of the isles of Greece, that in one case it is you cough and in the other Corfu; of an emperor and a beggar, that one issues manifestoes and the other manifests toes without hosiery; of a man boiling beets and a man flogging him, that one cooks the beets and the other beats the cook; of a tailor and a siege gun, that one works the breeches and the other breaches the work; of the Prince of Wales and a bombshell, that one is heir to the throne and the other thrown to the air; of "Old Uncle Ned" and Louis Napoleon in the event of another French revolution, that the one had no hair on the top of his crown, the place where the hair ought to grow, and the other would have no crown on the top of his hair, the place where the crown ought to go. It is also mentioned that the difference between a baby and a great coat is, that the one you was and that the other the wear; that perseverance is a strong will and obstinacy a strong wont; that Noah's ark was a high ark, but that an author is rather a hierach; of a gauze dress and a drawn tooth, that one is too thin and the other is tooth-out; that the Prince of Wales is an heir apparent, an orphan has ne'er a parent, a child head has ne'er a hair apparent and a gorilla has a hairy parent.

As a relief from the ingenuity of the specimens which I have given, it is well to introduce occasionally a question which ought to be obvious to every one, and is not. For instance what makes more noise than a pig under a gate? two pigs; why does a traveler who has been on a long journey, and comes to a board fence in the midst of a forest, try to get over it? because he wants to get over; what is the best thing to do in a hurry? nothing; why does a miller wear a white hat? to keep his head warm; Lord Dundreary gives one of this kind which, of course, is notwithstanding exceeding logical:

"Why doesth a dog waggle hith tail? Give it up! I think a moth feloniously gives that up! You thee the dog waggeth hith tail beneath the dog'th thtwonger than the tail. If he wathn't, the tail would waggle the dog."

It is so easy to make conundrums that most intelligent men will prefer to put their facilities to some harder and useful task. A dancer once said to a Spartan, "I can stand on one leg longer than you." "Perhaps so," said the Spartan, "and so can my goose." A few conundrums are very well after dinner with raisens and nuts, and I have no doubt my friend, the editor, will be willing to furnish them at reasonable rates in lots to suit purchasers.

The Age of Chivalry.

It is not unfrequently that we hear the mournful declaration that the age of chivalry has passed, nevermore to return. Grievous, indeed, is this thought to high-born knaves and lily-livered asses. In this matter extremes can meet and shed bitter tears together over the degeneracy of the times, and look back with wistful longing to the good old days gone by. But are we quite sure that these halcyon days are quite done with? The revival of the ancient and chivalrous tournament is certainly a hopeful sign. Whites and blacks alike have entered the list with great zeal within the past year. The costumes and customs of the middle ages have dazzled before us, and Don Quixotte himself, when posing his lance in rest to attack a windmill, could hardly have presented a more gallant appearance than these modern knights in the saddle. Another chivalrous sign of these modern times is seen in the numerous attacks as these made on many loyal men in the country. These have usually been in the dark, or from behind trees in the woods, or when known to be unarmed and entirely unsuspecting of danger. That chivalry and honor which believes that "discretion is the better part of valor," is evidently in the ascendant. The nice couplet,

"He who fights and runs away,
May live to fight another day" has manifestly become one of "the wise saws and modern instances." Sancho Panza well expressed it when he said that he was afraid of nothing except in cases of danger."

Another chivalrous manifestation of our day is to send round to the editor's sanctum and ask if he is responsible for a certain article. Fourteen out of eighteen editors of Vicksburg, within the last twenty years, are said to have "gone under" in that way, and if report be true, the same chivalrous game is about to be played in Memphis, but with some assistance from our own city. Now this may be called "chivalrous," "honorable," &c., but it only points to us as extremely foolish and utterly unworthy of all true manhood.—Memphis Post.

GENERAL NEWS.

—Three hundred thousand pictures of Thiers are circulating among the Parisians. His big speech did it.

—A man near Rochester is successfully growing a plantation of the famous California giant trees from seed procured in that State about fourteen years ago. It is gratifying to know that they will be fully grown in about 2,500 years.

—A new Masonic temple is to be built on the corner of Ninth and F streets, Washington. The building will be four stories high, with a front on Ninth street of fifty-one feet by one hundred and fifty feet on F street. The ancient order in Washington is in good condition, but needs a first class hall.

—On the 15th of March the troops in Bogota attacked the Congress while at their deliberations, by order of General Quenero. The immediate dissolution of Congress was the consequence. Afterwards Mosquera seized and imprisoned sixty-eight Senators and Representatives, among them Murillo, the late President.

—A Convention of French citizens of the Western States and Canada is to be held at Detroit on the 25th inst. The call says the object is to promote the general interests of the French citizens of the Western District, while matters of great importance to the French residing in Canada will be brought before the Convention.

—The Skowbogan Clarion, on which Artemus Ward learned or commenced the art of type-setting, is a slatternly little weekly sheet, printed in the interior of Maine. Its editor, one Moses Littlefield, the biggest in size and smallest in intellect of all down East editors, in noticing Artemus, said he "remained only three weeks, and not getting on much, borrowed money enough to pay his fare home, since which time—nearly fifteen years ago—he had heard nothing of Artemus or his money."

—Edward Biaque, the new Turkish Minister to this country, is a son of M. Biaque, an able and talented Frenchman who for many years edited the Moniteur Ottoman at Constantinople, the official organ of the Sultan. Young Biaque is connected with the Turkish Government at an early age and sent to Paris as an attache of the embassy. While there he married a daughter of the late Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, but she died two years afterward. M. Biaque has lately been Turkish Consul-General at Naples.

—Mr. Charles Dickens writes to acknowledge the receipt of 20 pounds from a Boston publishing house, from the profits of one of his works reprinted by them. From his language it might be supposed he had never before received a penny from an American publisher, while the fact is that he has received thousands of pounds from Harper & Brothers, of New York, and T. B. Peterson & Brothers, of Philadelphia. These two houses gave 1,000 pounds in gold for "A Tale of Two Cities," 1,250 pounds for "Great Expectations," and 1,250 pounds for "Our Mutual Friend," and he has probably received from them altogether what is equal to fifty or sixty thousand dollars in greenbacks. This was all done without an international copyright law.

—Burleigh, the delegate in Congress from Dekotah, has invited and organized a large party of members of Congress for a buffalo hunt on the Plains next summer. They intend to be in Yankton about the 1st of June, and being there, will proceed to the interior and spend several months in chasing the buffalo over the Plains. The gentlemen named below will constitute the party: Hons. Benjamin Wade, Richard Yates, Z. Chandler, Jacob Howard, James W. Patterson, L. M. Morrill, James A. Nye, Simon Cameron, L. F. Poland, A. H. Laflin, John Covode, John A. Bingham, Thomas Williams, G. S. Orth, G. W. Julien, J. H. Ketchum, Samuel Hooper, J. D. Baldwin, Wm. Lawrence, E. M. Pierson, W. E. Chanler, A. W. Hubbard, D. A. Carter, Gilman Marston, Alexander Stanzman, and W. R. Roberts-son.

AN INTERESTING LETTER is published in the Medico-Chirurgical Review, on the subject of the Extract of Sarsaparilla in certain affections, by Benjamin Travers, F. R. S., &c. Speaking of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury, he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla: its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I am acquainted with. It is, in the strictest sense, a tonic with this valuable attribute, that it is applicable to a state of the system so sunken, that to get so irritable as renders other substances of the tonic class unavailable or injurious.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, April 18, 1867.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as received by Mr. P. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 136¾; Eighty-one bonds, 109¾; Five Twenties, 1862, 109¾; do. 1864, 108¾; Five Twenties, 1865, 108¾; Ten Forties, 98½; Seven Thirties, 105⅝@106; Michigan Southern Railroad, 67¼; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 89¾; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 92½; Chicago and Northwestern, common, 32½; do preferred, 59¾; New York Central, 97½; Reading, 100¾.

Gold opened strong at 135¾, and closed firm at 136¾, with an advancing tendency. The Government has stopped selling, and operators have their own way. Railroad shares are are dull, and the market is without any support from investors; it seems prices will have to come down still further to tempt parties to buy and hold permanently. Fort Wayne is manipulated by the large holders for a rise, but if unsuccessful may turn bears and frighten holders to sell out at a great sacrifice.

Mining shares are neglected, but all point to a lower market. The promoters of new companies have sunk so much money that they were coupelled to water their stocks, and now find that the public will not bite, so they have their trouble for nothing.

—The New York Economist, of Saturday, in commenting on the National Bank statement of New York, Boston and Philadelphia says: "The Comptroller of the Currency has issued an abstract showing the condition of the banks in the principal cities on the first Monday of April. If, after what we have seen of the efforts made by the banks in preparation for this exhibit, the returns can be regarded as at all indicating their true condition, we should say that the statement is, with some exceptions, satisfactory and calculated to bespeak confidence in the banks of this city. But when statements are got up through a preparatory adjustment of accounts, and by a resort of expedients which in the case of a debtor making an exhibit of his affairs to his creditor would be deemed dishonorable, if not fraudulent, they must be regarded as deceptive rather than as conveying reliable information."

—A Mortgage was filed at Indianapolis on Tuesday, in the office of the recorder, executed by the Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Lafayette Railroad Company to a New York bank, in the sum of $2,823,000. Twenty-eight hundred dollars worth of stamps were affixed. This is the mortgage made by the Lafayette road for the consolidation with the Indianapolis and Cincinnati.

—The Philadelphia Ledger says: Since the announcement of the last weekly bank statement of averages by the banks of New York and Philadelphia, the market for money is quoted decidedly easier. The banks in both cities are more willing to discount at 6 per cent., which brings down the street rates, now ruling at from 6 to 7 per cent. on mixed collateral. On governments, in large sums, money is easy at 6 per cent., and in some cases a fraction less.

—The government has issued bonds to various Railroad Companies to the amount of $12,930,00 0, or nearly thirteen millions of dollars, as follows: To Union Pacific, one line, 393 miles, at $16,000 per mile, $4,880,680; to the eastern division of the same, 155 miles, at the same rate per mile, $2,480,000; to the Central branch, 360 miles, at the same rate, $640,0 0; to the Western Pacific, 20 miles, at the same rate, $320,0 0; to 27½ of miles of the Central Pacific, at the same rate, $440,000, and to 86¾ miles of the same, the Rocky Mountain region, at $8,000 per mile, $1,104,000. If to this is added $2,700,000, the price of Russia America, we pile up a debt of upwards of twenty millions of dollars for other than war purposes.

—The demand for gold for customs of New York last week aggregated $2,183,000, and the Sub-Treasury there paid out in the same time in coin, for interest on the public debt, $72,000. The Treasury is supposed to have sold during the week to about the extent of its daily receipts.

CENTRAL LIVE-STOCK MARKET.

CATTLE.

The market for cattle continues very quiet at these yards, the transactions, as has been the case for some weeks past, being very light. There was a very fair attendance of buyers this week, Philadelphia being pretty well represented, but as there is no stock here worth naming, buyers have nothing from which to make selections, and unless they turn in and buy Hogs or Sheep, they are obliged to go home empty handed. Prime to extra shipping cattle may be quoted at 8¼ to 9, but even these extreme prices fail to increase the offerings, and it is alleged by drivers that stock, especially good fat cattle, are becoming quite scarce in the west. There is a continued fair demand for stockers, and all that offer find ready buyers at prices ranging from 5 to 6¼, according to quality and condition. The reduction in the rate of freight between here and Chicago has not augmented the arrivals to any extent at these yards, and it is claimed that the decline does not help the market here, as dealers are compelled to pay that rate whether they ship to Chicago—the one being a fair offset for the other. The following is a complete report of the sales during the week:

Smith & Zalmaker sold to stock steers to Waltz at 6¼; 8 head to Beck, same kind, at 5¾; 28 head to same buyer at 6¾; 28 head to Chas. Murphy at 5. Hedges & Taylor to Berger, 27 head stockers, averaging 600, at 5; 4 head to Aull & Co. at 8. D. Faust to Shump 18 head, weighing 18,500, at 6¼. Green wald & Kahn to Maynes & Co., 18 head, weighing 20,450, at 8. Lindsay to Klemens & Co. 17 head, weighing 18,350, at 8¼. Smith to Todd 25 head, weighing 17,750, at 5¾; Chrysat to Shamberg 16 head, weighing 20,250, at 8¼. Hudson to Mace & Talmage 35 head of good Illinois steers, averaging 1300, at 10@6¾ per head.

Baltimore Hogs may be quoted about the same as those for Philadelphia, the same grade of Hogs being required in that market. The following sales were reported:

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

The produce markets were only moderately active to-day, and while there is a fair demand for most of the leading commodities, the transactions are mainly of an unimportant character, and the excitement in Flour and Grain seems to be subsiding. So far, however, as prices are concerned, there are no changes worthy of special notice.

GRAIN—Wheat is firm but quiet—there is little or none in this market, and no established quotations. Corn is in fair demand and steady but unchanged. Sale of 2 cars medium quality Shelled at 90; and 1 car prime do at $1. We are cognizant of an offer of $1 for 8000 bushels. $1.05 asked. Oats quiet and unchanged—45 on track, and 48 to 70, in store. Sale of 90 bush Rye at $1.35. Barley is quiet—sale of 1 car common Spring at $1.05.

FLOUR—In fair demand and steady but unchanged. We continue to quote at $14 to $14½ for good to choice Spring Wheat; $15 to $16 for White and $16 to $19 for Interest being considered. After the call the whole market was lower for some time, but towards one o'clock Central was up to 98¼, which stiffened prices a little; the market, however, was heavy on Northwestern, Rhode Island and Ohio Certificates, and prices lower. At the one o'clock Board there was a slight rally; at the second regular Board and sikewise at the last open Board the market closed steady.

RIVER NEWS.

The river is again receding at this point, the Allegheny marks indicating thirteen feet, and eight feet reported at Oil City. The weather yesterday was clear and pleasant, and business was more active at the landing, although there is still plenty of room for improvement.

The Kate Robinson, from St. Louis, is the only transient arrival we have to record. The Robert Moore, from Portsmouth, was due last evening, but up to five o'clock she had not arrived. The Robinson had an excellent trip, and the numerous friends of Captains Robinson and Hears will be glad to learn that they are both in good health and spirits.

The towboat Alex Chambers exploded one of her boilers while lying in the Monongahela river on the Birmingham side yesterday afternoon, and two or three men were badly, perhaps, fatally scalded. Particulars will be found in our local column.

None of the Allegheny river packets were in port yesterday. The Uriuba and Ida Rees No. 2 are due to-day. These boats seem to be doing rather more business, and as the lumber season is near at hand, they will soon be crowded with lumbermen returning home.

The Ezra Porter, Capt. J. H. Porter, is the regular Saturday packet for Cincinnati, and passengers and shippers can rely on her going without fail.

The Columbia, Captain Reed, is filling up steadily for the Upper Mississippi, and will be the first boat out. The America, Capt. Golding, will be the first boat out for New Orleans.

From the quarterly report of Capt. Geo. C. McLain, Surveyor of Customs, for the quarter ending April 1, we obtain the following statement of the new steamboats and barges registered at this port during the period embraced in the report:

STEAMBOATS.

Name.	Date.	Tonnage.
Elizabeth	February 16,	275⅔
Ida Stockdale	March 2,	97
Elisha Barnett	March 2,	200
Great Republic	March 12,	1,727
Total tonnage		2,589⅔

BARGES.

Name.	Date.	Tonnage.
Riley McConnell	February 19,	174
Sam Brown	February 20,	173
I. M. Mason	March 21,	125
Dove	March 28,	117
Swan	March 28,	177
Total tonnage		823

During the year ending December 31st, 1866, there were forty-eight new steamboats, with an aggregate tonnage of 14,165 tons, and 118 barges, having a tonnage of 19,250 tons registered at this port. The total number of new boats of all descriptions, registered, was 116, and the aggregate tonnage, 34,325 tons.

The Ida Rees was advertised to leave Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Wednesday, and the Westmoreland left there on Tuesday for New Orleans with an excellent trip.

The Cunard steamer Russia, launched a few days ago in New York, measures 3141 tons. The hull is chain-riveted throughout and there are eight water-tight bulkheads with doors which can be operated from the spar deck The same builders have on hand another large steamer—the Sumatra—for the Cunard Company.

A London correspondent says: "The clegar ship Rose Winan's has been for several days experimenting in the Channel, trying her speed and qualities as a sea boat in rough weather. Her propellers work as expected, she ought to make thirty knots an hour, and nothing less will satisfy Mr. Winans, who has been spending a mint of money on her."

The river reporter of the New Orleans Times, Capt. R. Higgins, left home on the 9th of this month with his family for a pleasure tour through Europe, and especially a visit to the Paris Exposition. We wonder if his accustomed steamboat and river news as he goes along, from force of habit.

A dinner of the most attractive kink was given on the Ruth at St. Louis last Friday. Among those present were Capt. Doble, Capt. Brown, Capts. Rose, Gen. Ramsey, G. W. Ford, The, Lavielle, Capt. Jones, D. G. Taylor, Geo. Knapp, Mr. Day, Capt. McCune Capt. A. Phillips, Geo. Pegram, and Col. Titos. and Tom Miller, Jr., the very efficient agent of the Atlantic and Mississippi Steamship Company.

The steamboats Bonz and Stella were at Louisville on Monday evening, waiting for an opportunity to get through the canal, with twenty big cows for the South.

The New York Tribune, of Friday, contains a long article in regard to steam boiler explosions, and goes on to tell how it is done, how we can tell the New from the old, how it isn't done, and how to keep boilers from exploding; i. e., put them in the charge of competent engineers who will see that plenty of water is in them, and not trust to New York commissioners, new-fangled money making inventions, and boilers made cheaper often if they have plenty of water in them. Louisville Democrat.

The Cincinnati Gazette, of Wednesday, says: Colonel Lance, who has charge of the office of the Cottage No. 2, has been notified that suit has been instituted in the United States Court in this city against him for $25,000 damages for arresting a man named Grant during the war. The circumstances of the case are these: Colonel Lance, then Captain, had command of Guyandotte, Va., and arrested a peddler under what he considered suspicious circumstances. The prisoner was forwarded to Gallipolis and turned over to the Provost Marshal, who sent him to Camp Chase, from where, after a time he was released. On the strength of this he claims the damages above stated.
